Councils endorse more Minden ambulance staff

A recommendation by the District Health Council that two full-time attendants be added to the Minden Ambulance Service, has been endorsed by five area municipalities.

The Ministry of Health is being asked to grant an additional $50,000 a year to enable the service to hire two additional Emergency Care Assistants (EMCA's) on a full-time basis. At present, the service employs two full-time EMCA's and four part-time attendants.

By increasing the staff, the service could provide 16 hour a day coverage, seven days a week.

The ambulance service is funded entirely by the Ministry of Health but is administered by the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden.

A letter outlining the reasons for the funding request has been sent to the Minister, Murray Elston, from the municipality's clerk-treasurer, Beverly Millar.

Ms. Millar points out the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Council has made the recommendation for increased funding. "Due to the high number of accidents and fatalities in this area and also the distance we have to travel to the nearest major hospital."

"We are now staffing at nights and on weekends with volunteers on a call-back system and our full-time people have to fill in, in addition to carrying out their normal duties when volunteers are unable to work. We feel that two more people on our full-time roster would be of enormous assistance in serving our coverage area which measures 1086 square miles and encompasses five townships which have a permanent population of 6500 spread over the entire area and a tourist influx of 50,000, all of whom we presently attempt to cover with one vehicle."

The letter goes on to point out the $50,000 increase would raise the annual budget to $158,000 per year, in comparison to a $173,000 yearly budget of a private ambulance service. A major concern raised in the letter is the trend to high liability and insurance settlements.

If the municipality employed full-time EMCA's instead of volunteers, many of the concerns over liability settlements would be greatly reduced, the letter states. Copies of the letter to the Minister of Health have been sent to adjacent municipalities that are covered by the ambulance service, along with a request for support.

To date, the townships of Stanhope and Lutterworth, along with the municipalities of Laxton, Digby and Longford and Galway-Cavendish have joined the local council in petitioning the ministry for increased funding.

The head of the Minden Sled Dog Derby organizing committee, Valerie Loughheed, made a special presentation to the municipality March 11. In appreciation for the township's financial support and encouragement, she presented the council with a framed, colour photograph taken during this year's event. Accepting the gift are members of council, Bob Sisson, Deputy-Reeve Bern Berry, Verne Graham, Reeve Sinc Nesbitt and Royce Miller.

Museum committee proposes pioneer heritage park

Land adjacent to the Minden County Town Museum could become the site of a Heritage Park comprising pioneer buildings and a modern museum if a project proposed by the museum committee is realized.

Members of the committee outlined their plans to Anson, Hindon and Minden council at the regular meeting on Tuesday, March 11.

Committee member Stan

Hill told council, under the first phase of the project, which is expected to be completed in 1986, a log building and wood frame church will be moved to the site and renovated. As well, two mill stones used in the mill at Workman's Falls, (the site of the Orillia Water, Light & Power dam), will be erected on a concrete base in front of the present museum.

Mr. Hill said the first phase of the proposed project will cost an estimated $41,000. He pointed out the project is eligible for funding by the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture. Provincial grant assistance will cover half of the estimated cost.

The committee requested a municipal grant of $10,000 with the remainder of the funds being provided by committee savings, donations and fund raising drives.

The second phase of the project calls for the construction of a 2400 square foot museum to serve as the administrative office and storage area.

To be recognized as a museum for funding purposes, the ministry requires the building contains adequate heating and air conditioning to ensure an environmentally controlled atmosphere.

Mr. Hill pointed out the building could be used to house local artifacts as well as the Andre Lapine Collection of paintings currently stored at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery.

A study team which examined the collection in 1985, recommended the collection be stored in a properly controlled environment to prevent further deterioration of the paintings. The estimated cost of the building is $100,000. The committee requested the municipal council undertake the project since it will also involve the Agnes Jamieson Gallery committee.

In addition to the log building, church and museum, the committee hopes to erect a pioneer barn and general store on the site. The existing museum could then become the Heritage Park bank, in keeping with its original purpose.

The single storey building was constructed on the present site of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce in Minden around 1920 by the Stirling Bank. After ownership was transferred to the Standard Bank of Canada then later to the CIBC, the building was donated to the municipality and after being moved to

Township will replace pump

Residents of Minden and the surrounding area who depend on the public tap for their supply of drinking water will soon have another source.

The well, located near the intersection of Newcastle and Lyons Streets, will be re-opened to the public this summer. The natural spring was a favourite source of water for residents of the village for many years, but was closed down by the municipality several years ago because of contamination.

At a meeting on Tuesday, March 11, Anson, Hindon and Minden council decided to re-open and upgrade the well. The project will be jointly undertaken by employees of the Water and Parks departments.

The public tap at the Minden Fire Hall will also remain in use. Because the tap had been a frequent target of vandals in the past, council had been considering relocating the water supply to a more public area near the Main Street.

However, because of the costs involved in providing a new public tap and because the tap has not been damaged for nearly two months, council decided the change in location was unnecessary.

Chief Operator of the Minden Water System, Gene Newell, told council the tap had not been damaged since he had reported the constant vandalism at a meeting in January. He surmised the attention the problem had received through The Times and the fact, "People are keeping an eye on the tap," has resulted in an end to the damage. Steps have also been taken he said, to ensure the tap does not freeze during the winter months.

Don Jackson is guest skater

Twenty-four years ago this month, Don Jackson became World Champion. His achievement is even more compelling in view of the fact that he won a competition that saw him an impossible 45 points behind the leader going into the final free-skating portion, in a Czechoslovakian arena where the leading competitor was Czech. Before stepping on to the ice, Jackson looked at his coach Sheldon Galbraith and asked if he had any chance. Galbraith replied "There is room at the top." What Galbraith didn't say was that Jackson would have to skate better than anyone in the sport ever had. And he did. Jackson landed the first ever triple lutz in world competition and set a record at that time of seven perfect marks of 6.0. No one else landed the triple lutz in competition for another twelve years. But that wasn't all. The 5 minute program included a total of 22 perfect jumps as well as spins and intricate footwork.

Financial difficulties forced him to abandon the amateur world so he was unable to go on to compete at the 1964 Olympics. He then joined the Ice Follies where he starred for seven years. Don met his wife while they were both in the Ice Follies and they now live in Scarborough with their five children. These days, he is kept busy skating in carnivals, teaching and conducting seminars across the country and keeping involved in a skate business run primarily by his brother.

When Don was here three years ago, he impressed the audience, skaters and parents, not only with his excellent jumps and spins, but with his down to earth friendliness. He was always available to talk with the crowd or pose for pictures with the children.

This year he will be staying over for Monday to conduct on-ice seminars for interested young people in the community as well as club skaters. Notes will be sent home from school to register for this.

Plan to attend this year's skating carnival on Sunday, March 23 at 2 p.m. in the Minden arena and treat yourself to a thrill of a lifetime - Don Jackson and "Sounds of Music."

Taps

While there was some suggestion the facility be closed down once the village pump near Newcastle Street is repaired, Deputy Reeve Bern Berry disagreed, noting the tap has become an important source of drinking water for many seasonal residents and is situated in an ideal location close to the downtown shops.

Peck Street, served as the village library from 1958 until 1981. In 1982 the building was moved to its present location and opened as the Minden County Town Museum in July of 1984.

The proposed Heritage Park could be used by local schools to inform students of the history of the area, would be available to senior citizens for various activities and could become a valuable tourist attraction, Mr. Hill commented.

The committee has applied for a grant under the provincial SEED program to hire a student guide for the summer and if successful, the grant will reduce the museum operating budget, he said.

Councillor Verne Graham requested the committee prepare a submission that includes the projected operating costs and capital expenditure for council's consideration during the preparation of the municipal budget.

The Norland goalkeeper reaches for an elusive puck in the final game of the Town League tournament at Minden arena on Saturday. Norland defeated Hall's Insurance 5-4 to capture the championship round after registering victories against Home Hardware 5-4, and The Rockcliffe Foamblowers 2-1. Hall's racked up consecutive victories against Vasey's Real Estate 11-5 and Hartwick Construction 11-3 before being defeated in the final game. The consolation round went to The Times who lost their first game 8-7 to Hartwick Construction then went on to defeat Vasey Real Estate 8-3 and Home Hardware 5-2.

Township agrees to accept sewage from Dorset station

Anson, Hindon and Minden council has given conditional approval to a proposed contract with the Ministry of the Environment that could add at least $3,000 to the municipal coffers.

At a meeting of council March 11, Gene Newell, chief operator of the Minden sewage system, reported that he has been approached by the Ministry to process effluent from the research centre at Dorset. By treating the 300,000 gallons of effluent per year from the centre, the municipality would be paid $3,000 and this revenue would increase as the research centre expands, Newell said.

Under the proposed agreement, tanker trucks would transport the effluent from Dorset to Minden three times a week. Because of the large capacity of the plant, the extra gallage would not burden the system, Newell said.

While council could see advantages to the proposal, they did express concern over the effect to the environment. Councillor Verne Graham said he would want assurances the chemicals used in the laboratory tests at the centre would not simply pass through the treatment plant.

Reeve Sinc Nesbitt commented that while the municipality would gain revenue through the proposed contract, he was concerned over the possibility that chemicals could cause damage downstream from the plant. (The treatment plant processes sewage from homes and businesses in the village along with water from the storm sewers then, after being treated, the water flows into the Gull River.)

Newell pointed out any effluent treated at the plant must meet the very high comprehensive restrictions in the municipality's bylaw 77-54. An analysis prepared by the ministry, shows the effluent is well within the guidelines, he said.

He noted also the regional office of the Ministry of the Environment constantly monitors the water quality in the Gull River.

Council agreed to a suggestion by councillor Royce Miller that written confirmation be obtained from the ministry to ensure the effluent conforms to the restrictions. An amendment to the bylaw allowing for the additional source of effluent will be tabled at the next meeting of council.

A job well done

There can be little doubt in anyone's mind as to the growing importance of tourism to the economy of the Haliburton Highlands. That fact is particularly true of the winter season, a time of year which once saw county communities curl into a dreamy lassitude that rivalled the bear in its winter slumbers. However, with the arrival of snow each year comes an increasing number of visitors, on snowmobiles, skis, at resorts and cottages. While still a shadow of the trade generated by tourism in summer, winter has achieved a strong second place showing in the Highland's economy.

Weather and snow conditions, of course play a crucial role in the success of the winter season, but so does the effort made by all those involved...an effort which is starting to show results.

Among the leaders in this effort is the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association which has just finished the most successful season in its brief history. If proof is needed of the prominent position the HCSA enjoys in the snowmobiling industry and winter tourism, it was offered at the group's annual general meeting held recently in Minden. At that gathering, those in attendance were told that the local club is the second largest such organization in the world. With a membership list of over 1300, the association represents one of the strongest forces for winter recreation in the Highlands. Recent developments, which appear to be heading toward the creation of province-wide reciprocal trail user agreements, will only enhance the value of the association and the impressive trail system it maintains throughout the county.

Congratulations are in order to all those, (including recent municipal and provincial government support), who have helped to bring the association, the sport and the season into such prominence in the Highlands.

Loans help farmers

- by Bill Scott, M.P. -

The Community-based Loans Program, announced in the Budget will link loan payments to fluctuations in farm prices, giving potentially viable farmers in low-equity positions another chance.

Under the program, farmers with 40 per cent or less equity are eligible for loans with an interest rate of six per cent. Those with up to 55 per cent equity would get a rate half way between the six per cent base and the going Farm Credit Corporation (FCC) rate for ten year, fixed term mortgages. Currently this would be a little over nine per cent. The new program will be available to current FCC clients during the next two years, starting April 1, 1986.

Up to 5,000 farm owners could be eligible under the program. The measure will benefit farmers unable to meet the repayment terms of conventional loans. These latter loans make no allowance for years in which incomes drop because of depressed commodity prices. The new program will see loan payments and the amount of outstanding principal rise and fall with the farmer's ability to pay. The program will be evaluated at the end of two years and a decision made about whether it should be continued and expanded to include other farmers.

The federal government will also soon introduce legislation to set up Farm Debt Review Panels. These panels will advise farmers with restructuring their debts and help them make arrangements with creditors. In addition, the FCC will receive an injection of funds to allow it to participate in debt restructuring without increasing interest rates to other borrowers.

The FCC's financial structure would be strengthened to give it greater flexibility in managing its portfolio of $5 billion in long term loans to Canadian farmers. The government has also taken steps to ease the transition for those farmers whose operations are not viable and who must seek other work. The Canadian Rural Transition Program will offer such farmers job counselling and retraining, as well as interim financial help.

The moratorium imposed last September on FCC foreclosures will be lifted only when the commodity-based loans and rural transition programs are up and running.

All these measures which will cost the federal treasury $195 million over the next two years, demonstrate the high priority this government has placed on agriculture.

A jumbled graveyard of clipped evergreen bits emerges as the snowy mantle melts from beneath an aged, windswept pine. A pungent aroma gently wafts. High above, great swatches of fresh munched ivory stands exposed. Devoid of bark, they project as crazy angles - like the limbs of a living skeleton, its fingers gone and armbones stripped of flesh. Huddled against the trunk sits a living pincushion, motionless.

Porcupines must, surely, measure among our most strangely adapted animals. Removed from their forest context, they immediately strike the viewer as hopeless - legs too short to cope with even shallow snow. An awkward, pigeon toed shuffle that makes them easy pickings for predators. An appetite for roadside barriers, car parts, tires and buildings. Awkward feet with oversized nails. And great curving teeth that grow inches per year.

Yet, viewed in their forest habitat, porcupines really couldn't be much better adapted. The short legs, equipped with rough pads and long nails are especially built to shinny up and down tree trunks, providing unerring grip, even on icy coatings. The strange, close-placed eyes enable porcupines to see exactly what it is they're gnawing. Razor edged teeth grown to compensate wear as they munch through perhaps a ton a year of bark and buds. To process it all, porcupines have an extraordinary digestive tract, and the ability to render harmless terpine and other irritants contained in the bark.

Indeed, porcupines are remarkably like beaver. Except instead of felling the tree, they climb it to munch off the bark in place. And, instead of spending their lives hidden beneath water and stick built lodges, the porcupine can head far inland, carrying its defence system - nearly 30,000 quills - with it. Each quill is a modified hair - a hollow air filled cylinder with a needle sharp point, and barbs which anchor. Although quills cannot be 'fired' they can be raised by special muscles, providing a formidable cloak. (The best way of removing a quill from a dog which has "done battle" or rolled in a carcass, is to clip the quill, releasing its air pressure and pull it quickly and firmly.)

Unable to flounder through snow, porcupines simply choose a 'rich' tree which will provide a wintertime larder. As the melt progresses at this time of year, all of the garbage - clipped branches, bark shreds and a considerable

I am in Grade 5B at Archie Stouffer Elementary School. The Ministry of the Environment gave our class a presentation on pollution and garbage. Since then, I became very concerned about the garbage. I challenge the people of Minden to keep our environment clean. It's not nice to see garbage all over. It would be nice to see an improvement.
Ronnie Reid, Minden.

Editor's note: The following is an open letter to the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council.

I would like to respond to the report from council that was published in the March 5 issue of The Times. I am concerned that some council members fear a possible conflict of interest due to the fact that the Planning Advisory Committee (PAC) chairman Dean Elliott is also connected with a local real estate firm.

It has been my privilege to have a seat on PAC for the past three years while Dean Elliott was vice-chairman. Certainly there were the occasional applications for severances, zoning changes, etc., where Dean had personal business experience and knowledge of the property involved. In each case he stated his knowledge and gave us the pertinent facts on the property and then withdrew from the discussion and refrained from voting. He never, at any time, tried to influence the other six members of the committee in their decisions or recommendations.

I think that most of us, at some time or other, have experienced a conflict of interest in public affairs. It is not a crime to have a conflict of interest but it only becomes a crime if it is not declared or an unfair advantage is taken by the individual.

During the past three years, outside of our chairman Ed. Pergolas, Dean Elliott has played a most prominent part in our discussions and recommendations to council. He not only knows the area in great detail, but also has a great knowledge of the legal aspects. I guess what I am saying is that it would be a shame to lose a person of his capabilities just because of his association, part time, with a reputable local realtor.

Mr. Reeve and members of council, please reconsider any decision you are making and do not weaken the organization and work of your present Planning Advisory Committee.

Morgan R. Loucks, Member of PAC, Canning Lake.

I have been meaning to write this letter for quite some time and when I read the article of praise for the Minden Hospital I realized now is the time.

I have had contact with many big Toronto hospitals and doctors and have never been treated with as much compassion and skill as I was when I had to take my niece in to the Minden hospital suffering an asthma attack.

We are planning to build a cottage on Kushog Lake. I feel much more secure knowing these people are close at hand. I only wish I could remember the name of the doctor and nurses on duty at the time but I was too upset. I did pay a visit to the hospital later to thank them and they astounded me again by remembering us. (Names even!)

I do mean the doctor and nurses on at the time.

I enjoy reading The Times very much. It keeps me in touch during the long winter months.

We wish to relate a personal experience of superb medical teamwork which took place in our small town of Minden.

Our daughter was visiting our home and took seriously ill Saturday, March 1. Earlier that week, Dr. Lodenquai had come to the house, upon request, as she was not well enough to go to his office. Yes! - a housecall!

About noon, after a quick response by Haliburton Ambulance, she was taken to Minden hospital. Since Dr. Lodenquai was not on call that weekend, Dr. Holliday-Rhodes took the case. After he and the nurses worked with her, they contacted Toronto General Hospital which, in turn, flew a team of doctors to Lindsay and on to Minden via ambulance.

A nurse here in Minden, who had already worked her shift, returned to the hospital to assist the case for an additional five hours and Dr. Holliday-Rhodes periodically checking the patient.

Finally, by 10 p.m., she was taken to Muskoka Airport near Bracebridge by ambulance and, under the care of the medical team, flew by jet plane to Buttonville and from there by helicopter to Sick Children's Hospital and on to Toronto General.

Doctors and nurses worked all through the night until she became stabilized and Sunday afternoon we counted 12 specialists in the conference room on her case. Even the head specialist took time to talk with her family, giving us a full report when I'm sure he would have much preferred talking with his own family in the comfort of home on a Sunday afternoon.

Please note - NO Doctor at any time, asked about extra billing or extra for weekends or extra anything or because it was a special case.

Our politicians have been spouting off about the medical profession for some time now. I wonder what kind of a response there would be if we called a politicians after hours or weekends? Doctors and specialists are most important, devoting extra time, pay for their own offices and staff.

Often when politicians are elected, one of the first items of business is a pay raise. They have free limos, offices, travelling expenses, secretaries etc. What about the professionals in the unions who will only work 7 hours a day and charge double for anything extra?

Let's get behind our doctors. One never knows when we will need their care not for how long a time. I urge you to write or call your member of the Legislature or better yet, Mr. Peterson.

A good place to begin cutbacks is with politician's salaries beginning from the top - immediately and leave our medical professionals alone.

Please remember to give you local doctors a big "Thank You."

Special thanks to Dr. A. Holliday-Rhodes, Dr. Jeffrey Lodenquai, Dr. D. Cameron, the staff of Coronary intensive care unit of Toronto General Hospital and the nurses of Minden hospital.

Al and Meryl Hudson, Minden.

On Saturday, March 15, two years of excellent juvenile hockey came to an end at Minden arena. We would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks to all our loyal supporters, the staff of the Minden Times for their excellent coverage, Minden Minor Hockey for their full support which we always received also Dollo's IGA, Arnold Cowen (timekeeper) and Tim Pritchard (scorekeeper.)

To name all those who have helped in any way in the past two years would take too long, so we would like to say a very large Thank You this way.

Last, but not least, we would like to thank the twenty players who played one or both of those years for us. You guys alone, are the reason for the success we enjoyed the past two years and we sincerely hope everyone has fond memories of good hockey. It was our privilege and pleasure to be associated with Minden Juveniles and we sincerely thank you.

I wonder how many readers know that a foot clinic is held in the Library the first Friday in each month. I really suffered with a sore corn for weeks and then a friend told me about the help she received at the clinic. When I went, they were very kind and when they treated the corn, the relief I received was just wonderful.

They are doing a great work. The clinic is run by the Haliburton Kawartha Pine Ridge District Health Unit.

Over the past few years, in various areas of the Highlands on a summer's day drive, one could suddenly round a bend of what the week before had been one of the county's beautiful, scenic, green winding roads only to be surrounded on each side by scared and scorched trees.

Counting the fingers in your glass

-by Gary Kenney-

As I try to sort the see-sawing events at Hall's Lake, I am helped by someone's earlier observation. It had to do with water quality and it went something like this:

A glass of water on your dinner table poses no threat to you if your little girl playfully sticks her finger into it. Very likely, even if she is joined in that mischief by a younger brother, you would not consider the water undrinkable.

Suppose, however, a stranger sticks a finger into your glass. Probably your eagerness to drink from it will now depend on some additional factors, such as how thirsty you are, where you think that finger has been previously and how inconvenient it might be to get replacement water.

However, if a series of strangers lined up to stick their fingers into your glass, without a doubt, at some stage, that water would hold no appeal at all for you. You would simply refuse to drink it, no matter how thirsty you were.

By counting up the number of strangers who did stick their fingers into your water glass before you finally refused to drink from it, you could arrive at a partial definition of what water quality means to you. But not necessarily what it means to a stranger.

That insight, offered a few years ago by Minden's planner, Robert Lehman, also points out how difficult it is to establish concrete and unchanging rules by which we, strangers all, may agree waterfront development should be controlled.

A hundred and eighty years ago, a resident Huron Indian family, fresh running rivers must have seemed profanely soiled by homesteaders' privy, bathing, laundry, farming and milling habits on their banks. For the immigrants however, recalling fetid reservoirs of eighteenth century Europe, that was must have seemed virginal refreshment itself.

Each succeeding generation compromised water quality and redefined how many neighbours' fingers could enter their glass, and under what conditions. Lately, it has fallen to local politicians to establish the rules.

Last year at Lake Kashagawigamog and more recently at Hall's Lake, resident environmentalists have insisted such rules enforce a severe definition of water quality. Which is to say, no more development, no more fingers in our glass.

Developers have countered with persuasive arguments about new tax revenue, jobs, local commerce...and fairness. They rightly point out that all environmentalists were themselves, at one time, "new development" of some sort.

In an age of unparalleled reliance on technical wizardry, issues like this are usually left for science to cast the decisive vote. Unfortunately, for every high priest or priestess of environmental chemistry that supports one side of the argument, another can be found with just as much computerized logic to refute it.

And back the ball bounces to less than eager politicians.

Today in the Highlands, the burden of proof seems to rest on developers. Municipalities like Stanhope and Anson, Hindon and Minden, have required them to fund environmental impact studies for councils to analyze before ruling on their development plans.

This buys time and the hope that consultants will come up with such irrefutable evidence for a decision one way or the other that political futures won't be jeopardized like those in recent Muskoka elections.

Fair enough. But we should be wary of falling victim to the chic smugness associated with technical data.

The water descriptives "clear" and "clean" have, in the course of two hundred years, gone the way of passenger pigeons and eskimo curlews. We are left with 'allowable limits of fecal matter', 'permissible levels of mercury' and guarded assurances about 'traces of pcb'.

Ministry charts that spell out how many meals each month we can safely eat "fresh" trout are grim evidence of our readiness to accept revised editions of the good life, providing the latest studies say we're still within the allowable limits.

This polluter wonders if a day approaches when the stranger wouldn't dare put his finger in my glass of drinking water for fear of catching something.

And I wonder about Matt.

Business briefs

New business

Renovation of the Minto Marine building is currently underway as Ray Moore prepares for the opening of his second Westside Jug City store in the county. Ray opened his first store in Carnarvon last summer.

The newest location, near the corner of Highway 35 and the south entrance to Minden, was purchased a number of weeks ago from Gary Anderson who had operated a marine business and boat storage facility there.

Ray is currently laying out the floor plan for the convenience store, installing shelving and lighting and preparing the premises for business.

The store will be open on a year round basis and will be managed by his son Keith and daughter-in-law Donna. The couple will be moving into the home adjacent to the property.

Ray is also in the process of purchasing a home in the community and expects to take up residency in the summer months.

The opening of the Minden location will be store number three in the Westside Jug City chain. Ray opened his first store in Gravenhurst in the early 1980's after retiring from a successful career in real estate. Last year he opened his second store at the intersection of Highways 35 and 118 at Carnarvon. It included a spacious outdoor fruit and vegetable market. The business was only open for the summer and fall season.

Ray is looking forward to the challenge of the new location. He is confident the business will prosper and be able to attract a regular stream of customers at the prominent location.

He noted that the Jug City chain is served through the Oshawa Wholesale group, providing the business with access to the economy of group purchasing and the expertise a large company can provide.

The Minden location is expected to open in early May.

Annual show

Once again, a number of Highlands businesses are exhibitors at the Sportsmen's Show in Toronto. The show opened Friday and runs to this Sunday.

The real estate community is well represented at the show including Bill Payne Real Estate, Wrightman Realty, Montage of Wilberforce, and Bowes and Cocks among others.

The Chamber of Commerce is back on the floor again selling the Haliburton Highlands to all takers. The booth includes a colourful quilt, brochures from various lodges and resorts in the county, an automated slide presentation featuring the beauty of the county in all four seasons and friendly, familiar faces behind the counter.

Missing, once again this year, is the latest edition of the Haliburton Highlands Lure Book. The failure of Allcom Marketing Inc. to deliver the book again this year on time for the Sportsmen's Show has frustrated at least a few businesses who see this event as the major promotional effort of the summer season.

Grants approved

Two tourist facilities in the Haliburton Highlands will benefit from provincial government grants. The assistance was announced this week by Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins, on behalf of the Eastern Ontario Development Corporation.

A $28,200 grading assistance loan has been approved for Hillcrest Haven Resort on Grass Lake.

"The loan will be used to upgrade hydro facilities, repair cottages and purchase new furnishings," said Trade and Technology minister Hugh P. O'Neil.

Hillcrest Haven Resort, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rodley, reopened for business July 1, 1985 and offers year round house-keeping accommodations.

A $400,000 Tourism Redevelopment Incentive Program (TRIP) guarantee and interest subsidy has been approved for Bonnie View Inn on Lake Kashagawigamog. Mr. O'Neil said "The guarantee will support a loan to redevelop the resort which, until June, 1985, had been closed.

Bonnie View Inn is located on the south shore of Lake Kashagawigamog and is operated as a destination resort by Ted and Joyce Waffle.

Information on all EODC financial assistance programs is available from the corporation's Peterborough office at 139 George Street North, telephone 742-3490.

Kennel call

The following animal is currently being held at the Minden Animal Clinic and must be claimed by its owner by Saturday, March 22, after which time it will be available for adoption. For more information, call Dr. P.J. Bennett at 286-2919. The animal was found near Kushog Lake in Stanhope Township.

- a Labrador-German Shepherd Cross with white mark on chest. The dog is male, approximately one year old.

volume of processed back-droppings - "melts" into view.

Not surprisingly, land-owners become alarmed. Great swatches of exposed wood (protected from weathering by frost) provide a dramatic sight. Equally awesome is the sound, heard later in the spring, of a porcupine gnawing away cottage supports. People often conclude that porcupines are malicious, destructive creatures to be dispensed with.

In reality, porcupines are important to the forest ecosystem as a whole, enhancing complexity and providing varied habitat. The occasional, deformed trees created by porcupines become the focal point for an astonishing sequence of wildlife - nesting sites for songbirds and woodpeckers, denning and nesting sites for mammals and a host of other values - both during the tree's life and beyond.

Moreover, by killing occasional trees, porcupines create small, temporary openings in the forest canopy. These pockets of light, reaching the forest floor, support a luxuriant array of plants and animals - so much so that they are often oases of life in an otherwise monotonous forest.

Cottages, are of course, another matter! Porcupines have an extraordinary metabolic craving for salt - and an ability to detect it. Most affected buildings have exposed wood, usually in contact with the ground. Wood acts like a giant wick, sucking salt-laden moisture from the ground. As moisture evaporates, beneath the salts accumulate, providing a natural 'feeding station.'

There are four good means of dealing with such problems. First, store inside anything portable like cushions and paddles, which pick up salt from perspiration. Secondly, exclude porcupines from the sheltered hollows where rainfall can't wash salts off wood. Thirdly, cover exposed uprights with hardware cloth-heavy mesh which can be bought from hardware or co-operatives. Finally consider placing a cone-like salt block away from your building, as an alternate feeding station.

Vasey's take one game lead

An eleven goal outburst in the final period of action, lifted Vasey's Real Estate into a 15-8 victory over Hall's Insurance in Minden Men's Recreational League play on Monday at Minden arena. The decisive win gave Vasey's a one game lead in the best of three championship series.

The teams were evenly matched through the first forty minutes of play. They were tied at two all at the end of the first period and remained deadlocked at the end of the middle frame after each team added two goals.

However, the see-saw battle broke wide open in the final period. Led by Brian Shaw, who opened the scoring at the 14:08 mark and added three more goals, Vasey's pulled ahead, scoring eleven goals to Hall's four. Shaw continued his strong post-season play, notching five goals including an unassisted marker and added two assists.

Dave Dollo and Dan Reid each contributed hat tricks during the scoring blitz and Dollo also added two assists.

Other pointgetters were Carl Northey with a pair of goals and two assists, Eldon Bull, a goal and five assists, Randy Anderson an unassisted tally and four assists, Barry Walker two assists and Dave Rogers a single assist.

Ross Lindsay played his usual solid game in nets for the winners.

John Barkwell was the top goalscorer for Hall's scoring four tallies including one unassisted goal and picking up three assists.

Other pointgetters were Ben Manuge a pair of goals, Lawrence Lougheed a goal and three assists, Andy Campbell a goal and a pair of assists, John McAdam a single assist and Neil Hutchison a single assist.

Rob Crowe guarded the net for Hall's.

The second game of the playoffs will take place at Minden arena on Monday, March 24. The opening faceoff is at 8 p.m. There is no admission charge to the game.

Miles of this blasted and depressing roadside often followed. It is just a heart break.

The Ontario Hydro, among other utilities, and their herbicide spraying machines and equipment would have passed by as part of their scorched earth policy of brush control. One of the first things destroyed, however, is the scenic tourist attraction of our beautiful county.

We must not reproach the pleasant, conscientious and courteous men and women of our local Hydro operation. They are just following order and procedures. They may even share some of the following views. This activity has to be stopped at a higher management level.

Herbicides being used today are increasingly being questioned as hazardous to human life on surface contact or when they enter our lakes and rivers or the groundwater which supplies our wells. Over the long term, we may not be talking "Herbicide" but "Suicide".

Jobs which could be created cutting brush by hand on Hydro rights-of-way are lost when spray replaces human hands. Many Haliburton youngsters would jump at the chance of a summer job.

Use of these sprays does not profit Canadians. It enriches the multinational companies based in foreign countries who manufacture the chemicals employed. Their shipment, storage, handling and disposal locally endangers local health.

It's a poor local bargain:

- Local jobs lost.
- Endangered local health.
- Destroyed local scenery.

I know John Eakins, our local provincial member and Minister of Tourism, will want to help stop the spraying. I urge you to address him as I intend to do. I plan also to ask Hydro not to spray along my property or anywhere else.

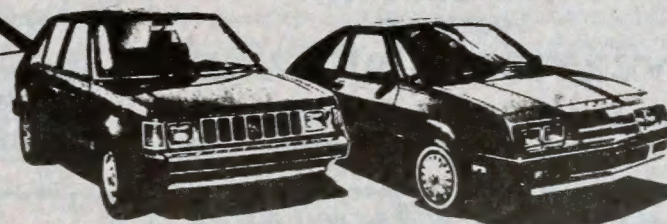

I'd like to see a bumper sticker that said something like this:

"Chuck away that spray. Give a kid a day's pay."

Juveniles go down fighting

It is not only Julius Caesar who should beware the Ides of March. The Minden Juveniles discovered the significance of that date when visitors from Godfrey came to Minden, not to praise them, but to bury them.

The Minden Monarch Juveniles season came to an end Saturday at Minden arena when they were narrowly defeated 5-4 by Godfrey in the deciding game of the Ontario "DD" semi-finals. It was a disappointing loss for a team determined to capture the Ontario championship for the second year in a row. What made the loss even harder, was their decisive win over Godfrey the previous night.

The team faced elimination in Friday's game after losing both contests the previous weekend which gave Godfrey a one and a half game lead in the series. The players travelled to Kingston which is a short distance from Godfrey on Thursday and used the time together to relax and discuss the upcoming contest.

Encouraged by a sizeable contingent of supporters from Minden, the Monarchs put their new game plan into action and skated to a 6-1 victory to register the most lopsided win of the series. By continually dumping the puck into the Godfrey end and sending two men into the corners, the Monarchs maintained control of the game.

As well, the strong defensive work by the rearguard effectively shot down the fast skating Godfrey forwards. Monarch goalie Kevin Smith said later he had to make only about 20 stops during the game, and of these, only three were difficult.

The host club's lone goal was scored on a rare two on one breakaway after the Monarchs had grabbed a 4-0 lead.

The win was a well-balanced team effort with the goals coming from six individual players.

Barry Boice put the Monarchs ahead after taking a pass from Scot Hamilton a minute and one second after the opening faceoff. At the 8:31 mark defenceman Greg Newell added a power play goal to complete the first period scoring. Assists went to Bernie Upton and Barry Boice.

Halfway through the middle frame, Lennie Johnston scored the Monarch's second power play goal on a pass from captain Jeff Howe and Dennis McKee to give the Monarchs a 3-0 lead. Twenty seconds later, Bernie Upton increased the margin with assists from Scot Hamilton and Greg Newell.

At the 9:01 mark of the final period, Godfrey spoiled goalie Kevin Smith's shutout on a breakaway to make the score 4-1. At the 8:43 mark, Jeff Howe knocked in the Monarch's fifth goal, after taking a pass from Doug Schell and Boomer Stamp.

After picking up assists on two goals, centre Scot Hamilton rounded out the scoring with a goal of his own on a pass from Barry Boice and Bernie Upton, who both contributed a goal and two assists in the win.

The officials handed out only six minutes in penalties to Godfrey and eight minutes to the Monarchs.

Home supporters

Word of the Monarch's win spread quickly through Minden on Saturday and by game time that evening, over 350 fans were on hand for the game at Minden arena. But this time it was Godfrey who jumped to an early lead, scoring a power play goal at the 12:42 mark of the first period then adding a second goal a minute later on a deflection.

At the 8:49 mark, Bernie Upton narrowed the margin after taking a pass from Scot Hamilton on a faceoff deep in the Godfrey end. With four minutes remaining in the first frame, Godfrey scored their second power play goal to take a 3-2 lead. The Monarchs cut the visitor's lead to two goals early in the second period when Doug Schell knocked a rebound into the top corner of the Godfrey net. Barry Boice and Boomer Stamp picked up the assists on the play. But within three minutes, Godfrey had scored again to take a 4-2 lead by the end of the second period.

In the final period, Godfrey notched their fifth marker of the game to hold a 5-2 lead with only 10:48 remaining. But the tide of the play turned.

With just over nine minutes left, the Monarchs won a faceoff in the Godfrey zone and after the Godfrey goalie made a sprawling save on a shot from Bernie Upton, Barry Boice flipped the puck into the wide open net. The Monarchs continued to press and after a Godfrey defenceman was sent off for holding, Dennis McKee scored on a backhand with 4:54 remaining to cut the Godfrey lead to one goal.

At the 2:47 mark, a hush fell over the crowd when Doug Schell crashed into the boards and lay motionless on the ice. After lying on the ice for nearly ten minutes, Doug was carried from the playing surface on a stretcher and transported by ambulance to Minden Hospital. An examination showed there were no broken bones but he was badly bruised and held overnight for observation.

With Monarch forwards Scot Hamilton and Bernie Upton on his doorstep, the Godfrey goalie wisely smothered the puck. Godfrey earned a narrow 5-4 win to capture the semi-final Ontario "DD" series and eliminate the Monarchs.

Doug's injury was a serious blow to the team but they did not relent in their efforts to tie the game. With four seconds remaining, goalie Vince Duchene skated to the bench in favour of an extra forward but there was too little time left and the buzzer sounded to signal the Godfrey win.

The semi-final series proved to be the most challenging for the Monarchs in two seasons. They may have lost the series, and with the loss, the chance to advance to the finals, but it was very close.

Originally scheduled for five games, the Monarchs forced a sixth game on the strength of their Friday night win after many fans had written them off. Only one goal separated the two teams over the series, but it was all that was needed as Godfrey hung on to win the final game.

Helping on many fronts

The 37th annual meeting of the Minden branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society gave the members an insight into the important work the society carries out on regional, national and international fronts.

Following the supper at St. Paul's Anglican Church on Monday, the formal part of the meeting began with reports by local committee members.

The chairman of the Emergency Services, Al Stott, told the group over $700 in temporary assistance was donated to three families in the area who were made homeless by fire in the past year.

He noted that 15 youngsters took part in a course sponsored by the society to prepare them for the responsibilities of babysitting.

During her report on the Sickroom Equipment Loan Service, Shirley Mitchell noted 136 pieces of equipment, such as crutches, wheelchairs, walkers and canes were loaned to 128 residents of the area.

Two year certificates and pins were presented to three Red Cross Homemakers and another three were honoured for their five years of service to the society. The service is designed to assist individuals and their families to maintain themselves at home in times of illness, convalescence or disability.

In his address to the group, the outgoing president Brian Adamson, said the volunteers with the Minden branch are the most dedicated and helpful group he has ever worked with. Considering that the annual budget is only around $2000, Adamson said he was amazed at the number of activities and credited the success of the branch to the hard work of these volunteers.

During his term as president Adamson attended a number of meetings with the presidents of other branches in the province and became aware that many of the smaller groups are concerned that their membership is decreasing. He stressed the importance of recruiting new members and of the work of the society. "The fact that we are located in an area that is rural and primarily tourist oriented, should not diminish our importance," he said, stressing that this branch has played an important role both nationally and internationally.

In concluding, he asked the members for their support for the new president.

His address was followed by the election of officers that resulted in Jim Burton being elected president, Jim Grant vice president, Jean Ballard secretary and Sid Adamson, treasurer.

The new president paid tribute to Brian Adamson and his wife Nancy for their work with the society over the past four years, then introduced the guest speaker, Sharon Jackson, a public relations officer with the society.

Mrs. Jackson began her address by noting 25 million dollars in donations through the Canadian Red Cross Society was contributed to international relief. While a large share of these funds were needed for African famine relief efforts, two million dollars were donated to the victims of the Mexican earthquake and a further $1.3 million was used in aid to the victims of the eruption of a Colombian volcano.

The society also assisted the people affected by the tornado that caused widespread destruction a year ago near Barrie, by providing 7.3 million dollars in aid.

She emphasised that 100% of the donations made by Canadians goes to relief work.

Then in an informative, at times, graphic and in the end, optimistic slide presentation, Mrs. Jackson related her experiences while involved in relief work in Ethiopia in 1985. Because of the worsening drought conditions in 1984, the country of Ethiopia was faced with an immense famine that threatened to kill millions.

An appeal was made to the International Red Cross Society that resulted in half of the society's annual budget of 350 million dollars being directed to the country. 6000 tons of food and supplies were sent to Ethiopia each month. Doctors and nurses from around the world provided emergency medical care to the victims. Twenty-eight delegates from Red Cross relief agencies from outside the country joined the hundreds of local Red Cross workers in the distribution of food and the setting up of emergency shelters.

Mrs. Jackson noted much of the media attention was focussed on the suffering of the children because they were the most dramatic examples, but the famine affected all ages. She cited one example of a seven and a half year old child who weighed only 16 pounds when she was brought to a shelter. Through the medical attention of the doctors and nurses and the intensive feeding program, the child recovered.

The relief efforts of the Red Cross and other agencies saved the lives of 800,000 people in 1984, a further 1.2 million in 1985 and is expected to save another 1.5 million lives over the next year. Mrs. Jackson commented that while the first mandate of the society is emergency relief, "We must continue to help; or what is the point of helping save them?"

To this end the Red Cross began a supplementary food program and a preventative care medical program which included primary health care education.

A reason for hope

In spite of the population increase of one million people a year and the vast extent of barren lands, there is hope for the country she said.

Half a century ago, 40% of Ethiopia was covered by forest, but since wood is the only source of fuel to the nomads and peasants who make up 90% of the population, the forests have been decimated to the point where only 3% of the land is forested.

The destruction of the forests resulted in billions of tons of topsoil being blown away each year and brought on the drought. If Africa is to win the battle against drought and famine, billions of trees must be planted, modified agriculture methods must be introduced irrigation projects will have to be carried out and seeds and tools will be needed to grow crops, she said.

With modern farming methods, Ethiopia could feed the entire continent of Africa, Mrs. Jackson commented and reminded her audience that the country, once known as Abyssinia, was formerly an abundantly fertile land, "a Garden of Eden."

During her four month stay in Ethiopia, Mrs. Jackson said she was impressed by the scope and co-operation of the international relief effort

Hydro tournament

The Ontario Hydro Georgian Bay Regional Hockey tournament will be held at the Minden arena this Saturday, March 22.

This is an eight team tournament involving Owen Sound, Alliston/Orangeville, Walkerton, Penetang, Barrie, Parry Sound, Huntsville and host team Minden. Games will get underway at 8:00 a.m. and continue all day with the consolation championship at 4:00 p.m. and the championship at 5:00 p.m.

There is no admission to the tournament and the public is invited to come out and watch some fine action in this tenth annual tournament.

Season ends for Juveniles

Godfrey should do well in the finals. They have a solid defence, three fast-skating forward lines and excellent goaltending.

The loss was particularly disappointing for five of the Monarch players who will not be with the team next season because they will be over age. Goalie Kevin Smith, defenceman Boomer Stamp and the 7-8-9 line of Scot Hamilton, Barry Boice and Bernie Upton will not be on the roster.

However, the contest played Saturday will not be the final game the members play together as a team. Because of their impressive record over the past two seasons, the club has been invited to take part in an Invitational tournament in New Hampshire.

It is only fitting perhaps that a team which won the Ontario championship will play together for the last time in an international competition. The tournament takes place in Nassua, New Hampshire, on April 4, 5 and 6.

that involved many different agencies. She recounted watching Canadian wheat being loaded on to Russian trucks that were fuelled by gasoline donated by the United States. "It was an international effort that was completely non-political," she commented.

"The biggest strength of the Red Cross society is that we are an international agency. We always work as auxiliaries to the relief arm of the local government and remain neutral. We are non-partisan and impartial. That is the key to our success."

As an example she noted the Red Cross was the only agency allowed to deliver relief supplies to the northern part of the country embroiled in a conflict between rebels and the Marxist government and was also allowed to unload and deliver all their supplies without any government supervision, which hastened the delivery of those supplies.

Her presentation ended on an optimistic note. Slides showed the new crops and trees that have been planted by relief workers and peasants and with the return of the rains to the country Ethiopia faces a brighter future.

ATTENTION

CABLE TELEVISION SUBSCRIBERS

Dear Customer:

Last Fall the C.R.T.C. (Canadian Radio & Television Commission) granted Haliburton CATV permission to add four American TV networks I.E. ABC, NBC, CBS, PBS, plus CHCH Channel 11 from Hamilton, Ontario to its cable systems in Minden and Haliburton.

These extra five channels would be added on a discretionary basis, and only those desiring the service will receive it. The cable company will receive the service via satellite from Canadian Satellite Communications and distribute the signals on channels 2-3-4-5-6. The existing "off the air" service will continue in its present form and will appear on channels 7-8-9-10-11-12-13. As a result, customers will not require a convertor or any other equipment in their homes.

The cost of this additional service will be $10.00 per month plus Federal and Provincial Taxes. Because we must commit the company to a substantial capital cost, plus a monthly rental to Canadian Satellite Communications before this service can begin, we must have a minimum number of cable customers committed to the new service. We ask you to complete the following form and return it to us as soon as possible. If there are questions, kindly call 754-2356 or 286-2846 between 6:00 and 8:00 p.m.

Property check list

A house is the most expensive investment the average Canadian will ever make and failure to recognize or correct maintenance problems can make it an even costlier possession.

The guide "Inspection Checklist for maintenance and repair" provides a series of checklists to identify symptoms, causes and cures for common problems found in a home, however, it does not act as a comprehensive inspection manual. It is a guide designed to assist homebuyers and homeowners in making quick, yet extensive examinations of their homes. It includes sections from inspections in the basement to the roof as well as exterior walls, condensation and for termites and other pests.

To obtain this valuable booklet free of charge, just drop in to your County Information Centre located in the Drag River building in Haliburton or give us a call at 457-2733. Dorset, Cardiff and Kinmount residents may call collect. Our office is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays. If you're out on a limb about where to get answers, we've got a million of 'em.

We heard there were many people out at the 90th birthday party for Mrs. E. Windover at the Curling Club last Saturday. May she enjoy continued good health and many more years of happiness.

At the euchre game last Thursday afternoon at St. Paul's Hall, winners included lone hands Gladys Wruth and others, Hilda Harrison, Dora Dawson, Ada Turrell and Wendy Spinos (Man's).

Another lady had a special celebration last week, congratulations to Mrs. Bob Shaw on her 80th birthday and we wish you many more.

The March school break is over and it was good weather for some of it. We saw many summer people in the village, no doubt while visiting their cottages.

Doug Shaw enjoyed a school trip to France and really enjoyed Rome, Italy where they arrived first.

Sincere sympathy to the families and friends of the late Wesley Baker, Haliburton and William Peck, R.R. 1, Haliburton who passed on last week.

We heard a robin late on Friday afternoon and heard that Denzil Cox had been lucky enough to see one. We saw ours Saturday. Have you seen one yet?

The Thrift Shop of St. Paul's Anglican Church beside The Times will be open this Friday from 1:30 to 4 p.m. but not the next week.

Hint of the week: Did you know it is best to clean (wash) walls from the bottom up, then you won't have streaks.

Velma Raimey has gone to Fort McMurray, Alberta to visit her sister whom she hasn't seen for a few years. Velma plans to bring her sister back to the latter's hometown, Minden.

There will be a Daffodil Tea at Hyland Crest home this Thursday, March 20, at 7 p.m. We are sure it will be a colourful setting for all who get to this.

On March 11, guests with Mr. and Mrs. Phil Robinson were Mrs. Paul Cockburn and Mrs. Glen Cockburn and Jamie, Michelle and Mark, all of Woodville.

Baby clothes, toddler's clothes, cribs, etc., are urgently needed for the emergency supply depot at Stanhope. Anyone having any of these items and willing to donate them to this excellent cause, is asked to contact Mrs. Ann Barker at 489-3180.

The Club 35 card party Monday evening saw prizes being awarded to George Alsop, door prize, Murray Daniel for most lone hands, Fern Donnelly as high lady and George Alsop again as high man. Other winners included Velda Harrison, Fern Donnelly and Jim Foster.

The annual Maple Syrup festival at the Leslie Frost

Centre will be this Saturday, March 22 from 9:30 to 3 p.m. We read in the Star today that maple syrup people in the northern United States are also losing their maples to pollution, although some scientists will not agree to this.

Jean Cruikshank from Shelburne paid a quick visit to her parents Cliff and Jean Lacey in Minden and took the Oatman children back home after their visit with their grandparents.

Sunday March 23 at 2 p.m. is the Minden Figure Skating Carnival. This year's theme is "Sounds of Music" and they welcome back guest skater Don Jackson whom everyone enjoyed so much a few years ago.

If you have a grass skirt you will get in free at the Rotary Tropical Bingo on Tuesday, March 25. Another fun night, whether you win or not. All kinds of prizes for everyone.

The Agnes Jamieson Gallery's show "With Art in Mind" continues until March 22.

If you notice we are getting more coming events, it's thanks to the chamber of commerce who so graciously sent us a list.

Many of our Juvenile players will not play in this league another year because of age. So sorry they lost out in the final game.

We had to smile Monday as we watched our laundry blowing in the breeze and sunshine. This is a first for 1986 for us and hopefully we will have many fine Mondays. The rain over the weekend surely has melted much of the snow but snow machines were still going strong on the weekend. Keep smiling!!

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Mary Windover shares a moment with MPP John Eakins during a celebration of her ninetieth birthday at the Minden Curling Club on Saturday. The Minister of Tourism joined many well-wishers MP Bill Scott, County Warden Harry Davis and members of Anson, Hindon and Minden council. Mrs. Windover received special framed greetings from Governor-General Jeanne Sauve, lieutenant governor Lincoln Alexander, prime minister Brian Mulroney and the hosts of the popular CBC Radio program 'Fresh Air' Bill McNeil and Cy Strange.

Church receives grant

St. George's Anglican Church in Haliburton Village has been awarded a $135,638 grant for major renovations and an addition to the present structure. The awarding of the grant was announced by Victoria-Haliburton MP Bill Scott.

The grant was approved through the Department of Employment and Immigration under a job creation program administered through the Unemployment Insurance Act.

This project will construct an addition to provide a larger Sacristy and Sanctuary, more seating space, office space, a large auditorium area and kitchen (doubling for use as Sunday School rooms), washrooms, storage space and an entrance to accommodate wheelchairs and funerals.

Renovation in the old church will include: insulating and refinishing church proper, re-roofing, enlarging the Sunday School rooms under the church, upgrading the electrical and heating within the church proper.

An additional exit will be constructed in the present Parish Hall in accordance with fire regulations.

Farm safety seminar

A farm safety workshop for farm women is scheduled to be held Saturday, April 5 at Hub International Limited in Lindsay, starting at 10:00 a.m. and finishing at 3:00 p.m. Designed specifically for farm women, the workshop will cover pesticide safety, farm tractor safety and fire safety.

The workshop was organized due to the growing number of farm women actively involved in the hazardous farm operations at planting and harvest time. In many cases, these jobs are assumed by farm women with little or no prior experience pertaining to the task. The result is that over the past few years, several farm women have been killed and several others injured in farm related accidents.

In the event of an accident occurring on the farm, it is most often the farm woman who is first on the scene. Knowing how to shut off equipment and having a knowledge of emergency first aid is vital to life-threatening situations. Ask yourself, "If your husband or another family member was caught in a Power Take Off Shaft, would you know what to do?" Attend this workshop and you will be better prepared to handle this emergency situation.

The workshop is a co-operative effort between the Victoria Farm Safety Association, Hub International Limited, and the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food. For further information, please contact Mrs. Jean Windrem, President of Victoria Farm Safety Association at 705-799-6257 or Jim Coffey, Farm Safety Consultant for the Farm Safety Association at 416-342-2035. There is no charge to attend this workshop, please bring your own lunch. To register please call the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food office in Lindsay by April 1 at 705-324-6125.

Canola & White beans

Farmers interested in learning the latest information regarding growing canola and white bean crops are invited to an information meeting being held Friday March 21 at the Lindsay Agricultural Office.

The morning session starting at 10 a.m. will be devoted to canola with Joan McKinley, soil & crop specialist from Walkerton as special speaker. A panel of local farmers will outline their experiences producing canola in the past year or two and the new Ontario Canola Growers Association will explain their organization and goals.

The focus of the afternoon session will be on white beans with Bob Forrest from the Centralia College of Agricultural Technology, discussing the production and management of this crop. Again, a panel of local farmers will outline their experiences.

This information day is being sponsored by the East Central Soil and Crop Association.
